My dear Friends, I thank you for the event- 'Runanubandh'! It was a remarkable evening. Normally such moments become small talk for some days and then vanish in the thin air. But you all deserve special appreciation for organizing the event to be extremely memorable. Accept my grateful compliments.

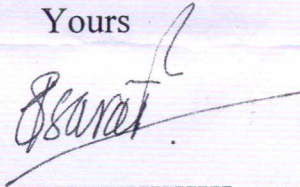

To be shan had been a thing of pride once. Tides of the Times have washed away much of its grandeur. We had lost all the hope of restoring the old values. Your move created a ray of hope to that direction. The spirit that your generation preserved dissolved gradually every year. Consequently present teachers and students hardly seem to be proud of their relation with Saraswati Bhuvan. The sense of belongingness has reached to extinction today. To witness such a fall in the attitude has certainly been an unfortunate stroke for all of us.

Well, you gave us a pleasant surprise. The old spirit seems reawakened. You made us realize that all is not yet lost. Your move of erecting a moral strength through this function inspired the present teachers. It was not easy, nor it was casually done. Valuable contribution of money and devoting precious time wouldnt have sufficed here. Your initiating low profile has heightened this 'Nobody's job'. You could give full justice to the fete only because of the flavour of intimacy in your approach. You kept yourself at a safe distance. Persons working hard behind the curtain hardly appeared in the lime light. No credit list was printed with photographs. I respectfully salute all these great people.

May this distinct movement prove fruitful for the future generation. This is incomparable service to your dear alma mater. I heartily congratulate you all and wish every success to your mission.

May this new year be a year of novel experience for each of you. I wish everybody a shower of infinite blessings by Goddess Saraswati and Laxmi both.

Yours
